

ENTERPRISE INTEGRATION

The fast pace of business and escalating customer demands require your organization to have the agility to respond quickly to change. However, doing so necessitates an enterprise architecture that allows information to flow seamlessly between departments and often across geographies. Easier said than done. In most companies, information “silos” caused by legacy applications and a diverse IT architecture prevent the smooth flow of information.

ALIGNING THE EXTENDED ENTERPRISE WITH ITS INFORMATION RESOURCES

Our Enterprise Integration practice aligns your data with applications and delivers fully functional business solutions. We blend our best-of-breed tools, standardized processes and skilled resources in enterprise architecture, application integration, business continuity and network security to help your enterprise leverage information for optimal business value.

ASPEO’s depth of industry experience and proven track record of integrating data, applications and technology, provides the knowledge and resources you need to meet your integration goals.

SOLUTIONS GEARED TO YOUR UNIQUE BUSINESS NEEDS

You've spent time and money to carefully plan, build and implement the key technologies necessary to run your business. You know the importance of integrating these technologies to provide a competitive advantage and maximize your IT investment. You know integration is the key to reducing complexities and costs, improving performance and productivity, delivering accurate information, and providing flexibility and scalability. You also know your unique needs based on your industry, size and business objectives. How do you integrate your technologies efficiently and cost-effectively?

ASPEO's Enterprise Integration practice provides the answer. We deliver solutions geared to your specific needs. Integration isn't an abstract concept – it's combining organizational, business, application, data and technology architectures in the right way. We know that one strategy does not fit all companies, so we work with you to understand your infrastructure and processes to create a comprehensive solution. We focus on understanding your goals to make certain your enterprise integration initiative is directly connected, providing added value and increased flexibility each time new infrastructure is deployed.
